
Nostrification

Nostrification Process - Recognition of foreign education qualifications

In order to be accepted on study programmes at Bachelor's, Master's, or doctoral level you need to provide proof of your previous educational qualifications, for example, depending on the study programme you are applying for, a secondary school leaving certificate, a Bachelor's degree, or a Master's degree.

If your qualification has not been issued by a Czech educational establishment, but by an educational establishment in another country, then you need to get it officially recognised by the Czech authorities. This process is known as "nostrification".

There are different kinds of nostrification procedure, depending on why you need your diploma recognised.

Recognition of foreign secondary and higher education for applicants to study programmes at the Protestant Theological Faculty

This recognition is valid only for the purposes of the admission procedure at Charles University.

General recognition of foreign secondary and higher education for other purposes

If you need your qualifications recognised for any other reason than for studying at Charles University – for example if you want to study at another Czech higher education institution or for the purpose of employment – then you should follow the instructions under procedure b) (for higher education certificates) or c) (for secondary school leaving certificates) on Charles University's website here.
