

COMMUNIO

A THEOLOGICAL JOURNAL • LIX 2017 • II

VIATORUM

• HOW PLACES WE INHABIT SHAPE OUR THEOLOGY •

• A PROLEGOMENA TO THEOLOGY OF THE LANDSCAPE •

• HUMAN BODY AND “LANDSCAPE BODY” IN LITURGY •

• DUMITRU STĂNILĂE’S THEOLOGY OF THE WORLD •

• LANDSCAPES OF THE SPIRIT IN THE AFRICAN AMERICAN EXPERIENCE •

• GERARD MANLEY HOPKINS, LANDSCAPE AND POETRY •

BY

IVANA NOBLE, FRANTIŠEK ŠTĚCH, MARION L. S. CARSON, MICHAELA VLČKOVÁ, VIOREL COMAN,

ANNE MARIE REIJNEN AND TIM NOBLE

VIATORUM

CONTENTS (LIX, 2017) Nr. 2

127	IVANA NOBLE Landscape as a Theological Theme
130	IVANA NOBLE Embodied in the Landscape: How Places We Inhabit Shape Our Theology
148	FRANTIŠEK ŠTĚCH Here I Am: A Prolegomena to Theology of the Landscape
160	MARION L. S. CARSON Sheer Grace: Psalm 88, Depression and the Dark Night of the Spirit
177	MICHAELA VLČKOVÁ Human Body and “Landscape Body” as Determining Factors of Liturgical Celebrating as a Ritual Activity: Theological and Anthropological Meanings
189	VIOREL COMAN Dumitru Staăniloae’s Theology of the World: Reflections on the Margins of the Relationship between Humankind and Creation
210	ANNE MARIE REIJNEN Landscapes of the Spirit in the African American Experience: From the Lonesome Valley through the Deep River and the Mountaintop
224	TIM NOBLE “The Mind Has Mountains”: Gerard Manley Hopkins, Landscape and Poetry
	BOOK AND FILM REVIEWS:
236	Jürgen Moltmann, Hoffnung fur eine unfertige Welt (Jan Lamszer)