
Job Positions

Assistant Professor in Theological Ethics

The Dean of the Faculty of Protestant Theology of Charles University invites applications for the position of an assistant professor in Theological Ethics for the bachelor's and master's degree program in Protestant Theology

Workload: 0.5

Requirements:

- Ph.D. in Protestant Theology with a particular focus on Protestant Theological Ethics,
- ability to teach in English,
- proposal for a grant project (workload: 0.5), which the candidate will be able to submit in the spring of 2027 to, e.g., the Czech Science Foundation (standard or postdoc projects).

Experience and publications in the field are an advantage.

Job description:

- Teaching in the English bachelor's and master's program in Protestant Theology,
- supervising bachelor and master theses,
- research and publishing activities,
- other activities corresponding to the position according to the conditions of Charles University.

We offer:

- a fixed-term contract for a period of 5 years,
- salary classification according to the internal salary regulations of Charles University (position AP2),
- work in a friendly environment,
- suitable conditions for further development of academic career.

Start date: September 1, 2026, or later.

A signed application together with

- a brief letter of invitation,
- a structured professional CV,
- officially certified documents of education and qualifications,
- an overview of scientific and publishing activities
- proposal of a grant project
- written consent to the use of personal data for the purposes of the selection process is to be sent by February 28, 2026.

Postal address: PTF CU, Černá 9, 110 00 Prague 1

Data box ID: piyj9b4